DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-8, 10, 12-19, 21 and 23-31 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2005/0132258 to Chen et al (hereafter "Chen").

Chen discloses link error monitoring in a Fibre Channel network. A specified error rate serves as an "alarm set threshold" [0086] for a "real-time physical link error rate." Chen further discloses counting errors detected over a window interval for determining the error rate. Errors counted by Chen's monitor include CRC errors, and provide an "operational link error rate" measure. Accordingly, Chen discloses a "monitoring subsystem to determine an operational link error rate of a link and to estimate a real-time physical link error rate of said link using said operational link error rate" including arrangements to detect an "operational link error on said link."

Regarding claims 3, 14 and 26, Chen's error rate monitoring is performed on data transmitted between "elements" of a network and apparently operates "at least partially concurrently" with the data reception, as data reception is apparently not interrupted for such monitoring.

Regarding claims 7 and 18, Fibre Channel data is understood to be comprise a "plurality of data sets" within which the errors are detected.

Regarding claims 12-19 and 21, Chen's monitoring is apparently implemented with software.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 9 and 20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 27 December 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8, 10, 12-19, 21 and 23-31 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground of rejection.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Art Unit: 2133

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
